The new logistics provider for the transportation of special goods

Logikem is an integrated logistics provider, specialised in the management of agrochemicals and chemical products that require special professionalism.

Logikem was founded in 2010 by CONSAR Servizi Logistici (leading providers in the transport and logistics sector) and TERREMERSE SOC. COOP. (a leader in the agricultural services sector).

Today, Logikem is able to facilitate and synchronise the world of commerce, making worldwide trade easier.

Logikem promotes the business of its customers, safeguards health and protects the environment.

STORAGE and DISTRIBUTION

Logikem has a specialised storage warehouse, measuring approximately 10,000 square metres, which is situated in Ravenna and is near major road junctions, railway lines and port routes.

Inside the warehouse, goods are handled using an advanced software system with radiofrequency technology. In line with the most innovative and stringent safety standards, the entire site is certified and constantly monitored.

Logikem is a licensed freight operator and uses its own fleet of trucks and qualified sub-carriers, incorporating logistical activities and distribution needs.

Logikem has a long list of authorisations and safety features:

- Legislative decree 334/99 – Seveso Directive
- Automatic fire extinguisher (high expansion foam)
- REI 120 / 240 structure certification
- Containment basin with drain shut-off valves
- Safety management system
- Trained staff for fire safety, first aid and forklift truck use
- Advanced anti-theft system
- Round the clock surveillance
- CCTV

Services

The efficiency and reliability of an advanced logistics provider

Logikem has always aimed at satisfying the needs of customers who want to relocate their production in a context that is more suitable and more convenient in technological, economic and organisational terms.

Storage

Warehouse management activity is customised and computerised and goods are accepted, quality-controlled and sent out using F.I.F.O and L.I.F.O methods that aim to optimise stock and facilitate customer business.

Picking

Picking is carried out as part of warehouse logistics. Picking involves selecting goods from an original load unit, splitting them up and adding to other loads. This type of goods "sorting" is intended for both internal sections of the warehouse as well as other structures.

Reverse logistics

Collection and storage of returned goods, transportation, receipt and sorting of returns.

Packing & copacking

Items are prepared and differentiated with a view to putting them on the market.

Includes packaging, labelling, film wrapping, flow-packs, cross-folding and manual packaging.

Tax and customs storage service

The storage warehouse measures 10,000 square metres and is situated in a particularly convenient area near to major motorway junctions, railway lines and port routes.

Insurance services

Customised services based on personal requirements.

Transportation of small consignments, groupage and full loads

Door-to-door transportation and distribution of special goods (ADR)

A goods delivery procedure that is based on the direct link between manufacturer and final user.

Widespread distribution network

The company is a licensed freight operator and uses its own fleet of trucks and qualified sub-carriers.

Customised operations

Able to respond to a wide range of requirements.

The benefits
A professional approach ensures customer peace of mind

Logikem works as an integral part of the customer's company organisation and can single-handedly manage the entire supply chain in the logistics process. Since it was established, it has continued to evolve to incorporate logistics and distribution processes in as efficient a way as possible.

Logikem is a professional and reliable partner that is confident in any business environment and can create specific, customised logistics projects.

It works single-handedly and leaves the customer free to be able to devote their time to their own business. Entrusting Logikem with a part of or the entire logistics process means saving resources and time. It means choosing a reliable partner that helps you cut down on spending, ensures variable logistics costs and facilitates organisational and operational flexibility.
